

Introduction of Sahulat Account Opening Facility

All PMEX brokers are hereby informed that in order to increase market outreach by facilitating low risk individual customers desiring to hold the positions worth of PKR 1,000,000 or less in the Futures Market. PMEX has taken an initiative with the approval of the Securities and Exchange Commission of Pakistan (SECP) to introduce “Sahulat Account Facility”.

Sahulat Accounts are ideal for new investors entering futures trading, offering a quick and simplified account opening process without extensive documentation requirements and to trade without leverage for some time, before upgrading to a full Normal Account.

To enable the Sahulat Account Facility, PMEX brokers offering online account opening facilities are required to coordinate with their respective vendor(s) to ensure smooth and timely onboarding through their official websites. Brokers with in-house online account opening facilities may contact the PMEX Customer Support Department for further assistance.

Complete Sahulat Account opening guidelines is provided in Annexure A.

For further information/assistance, please call our Customer Support Services on 021-111-11- PMEX (7639) from 07:30AM to 11:00PM on trading days or send email to support@pmex.com.pk.

Sahulat Account Guidelines

- Sahulat Account can be opened by resident Pakistani individual customers only.
- A valid Computerized National Identity Card (CNIC) / Smart National Identity Card (SNIC) is required as proof of identity.
- Sahulat Account can be opened through digital / online account opening facilities provided by PMEX Brokers. Brokers are encouraged to facilitate seamless online onboarding for eligible customers.
- Sahulat Account can be opened in single capacity only; joint accounts are not permitted.
- A customer is allowed to maintain only one (01) Sahulat Account.
- Multiple Sahulat Accounts are not permitted, whether with the same broker or with any other Broker.
- Sahulat Accounts are generally categorized as low risk based on their defined characteristics.
- The maximum investment amount that may be maintained in a Sahulat Account is PKR 1,000,000. This limit applies at all times, irrespective of profits earned.
- Leverage is not allowed in Sahulat Accounts.
- Trading exposure shall not exceed the actual margin deposited in the account.
- As leverage is prohibited, exposure is automatically limited to the available funds, subject to the maximum cap of PKR 1,000,000.
- Profit earned on futures trades is credited to the account upon settlement. Such profit forms part of the customer's equity. However, any new exposure remains capped at PKR 1,000,000, regardless of increased equity due to profits.
- Customers may take new positions after closing an existing position(s).
- Adequate funds must be available, and exposure for any new position shall remain subject to the PKR 1,000,000 limit.
- Transactions beyond the specified investment and exposure limits are strictly not permitted in Sahulat Account.
- No additional documentation is required for establishing the source of income.
- A customer who already maintains a normal trading account with any Broker is not eligible to open a Sahulat Account.
- Existing normal trading accounts cannot be converted into Sahulat Accounts.
- If a Sahulat Account holder intends to transact beyond the prescribed limits, the customer may opt to convert the Sahulat Account into a normal trading account. Such conversion shall be subject to fulfillment of all applicable requirements through their respective brokers.
- All the applicable requirements of the laws and regulatory framework relating to "Know Your Customer (KYC) and Customer and Due Diligence" shall be complied with by the respective PMEX brokers on an ongoing basis.
